Turner Begins Work on $116 Million Capital Project for East Greenbush Central School District

"Building a Bright Future" initiative will enhance learning environments, infrastructure, and student wellbeing across the New York district.

May 23, 2025 – Turner Construction Company joined East Greenbush Central School District officials, students, and community members to celebrate the groundbreaking of the New York district's "Building a Bright Future" Capital Project—a transformative, $116 million investment to upgrade learning environments, improve infrastructure, and support student wellbeing across all seven district schools.

Phase 1A of the five-year initiative is already underway and includes the replacement of tennis and basketball courts and a new roof installation at Columbia High School.

"Turner is proud to partner with the East Greenbush Central School District on this impactful project," said Carl Stewart, Vice President and General Manager of Turner Construction Company and a proud graduate of Columbia High School. "We're also excited to continue our strong working relationship with LaBella Associates, whose thoughtful design reflects a deep commitment to innovation and student-centered learning environments."
